A highly experienced and accomplished Chef .....

Chef McFadden grew up in a small seaside town in Ireland renowned for its fine cuisine, he knew from a young age that he wanted to be a chef. He began training with Master Chef Nigel Mulveehill and at the age of 16 he was accepted into the prestigious LYIT Tourism College in Kellybegs, Ireland, where he was classically trained in all aspects of kitchen life. From there he moved his way up the culinary ladder in Ireland and held the helm in some of Ireland's best kitchens; winning awards and gathering good press along the way.

Chef McFadden prides himself on his classical skills and uses these skills as the basis for even the most modern of menus. He strives to be the best chef he can be learning to improve his classically trained skills every day. This has been the basis that has led Chef McFadden to success through all the challenges and opportunities since he began this amazing journey over 20 years ago.

"I love the art involved in producing top quality food, from the time it is delivered to when it is served to the customer". Chef McFadden
